I asked for silence and some space
Our paths were going separate ways
But you know, growing up can mean growing apart sometimes

I saw a picture yesterday
I swore I'd throw them all away
But you know, in time my heart is gonna catch up with my mind

But ooh, how the laughter felt like rain
Ooh, and the love outweighed the pain
Ooh, I've never felt the same
Can we try this once again?

I shut you out, tried to live without you
You're a part of me
Heaven knows where we will go, but I've gotta see
And it gets clearer everyday
We're not gonna get away
I'm fighting me, fighting Gravity

Under familiarity
It gets so dark that we can't see
But we know, we know that one and one will soon make three

But ooh, how the laughter felt like rain
Ooh, and the love outweighed the pain
Ooh, it's killing me again
Takes a fool to understand

I shut you out, tried to live without you
You're a part of me
Heaven knows where this all goes, but I've gotta see
And it gets clearer everyday
We're not gonna get away
I'm fighting me, fighting Gravity

My masquerade
My great charade
A kiss goodbye, then step on stage
A painted face
A cold embrace could never, ever take your place

I'm fighting Gravity
