For the houseless
You're just searching for a home
For the spouseless
You don't wanna live this life alone
For the waitress
Wearing the face we wanna see
For the fameless entertainers who may never see their dream, yeah

For the loners
Seeing a world that we can't see
For the donors
You're giving your life away for free
For the soldiers
Defending those who curse their name
For the lovers who wish the other felt the same

We are the Heroes, we are the luminary ones
We are believers, we are the catalyst unsung
We are the Heroes
We do what you cannot bear
But you need us, yeah you need us
So ignite this world, cause they don't seem to care

You're the fathers and your children have been ripped out of your hands
You're the mothers and your lovers have turned into heartless men
You're the preachers and your seats are filled with apathetic souls
You're the teachers, you're the leaders who've been stripped of all control

We are the Heroes, we are the luminary ones
We are believers, we are the catalyst unsung
We are the Heroes
We do what you cannot bear
But you need us cause we are the Heroes

We will not, we will not forget you

We are the Heroes, we are the luminary ones
We are believers, we are the catalyst unsung
We are the Heroes
We do what you cannot bear
And you need us cause we are the Heroes
