The tale of who we are
Is painted in our hearts
With blood, and tears, and war
The rising and the fall
Will crucify us all

You better pray to God
In the end Love Will Win
When the truth is heard and we shed our skin
Pray to God
In the end Love Will Win
Yeah, Love Will Win in the end

The light that's in my eyes
Will burn through your disguise
Say your last goodbyes
Hold out your broken hand
And beg with all you can

You better pray to God
In the end Love Will Win
When the truth is heard and we shed our skin
Pray to God
In the end Love Will Win
Yeah, Love Will Win in the end

We are not the same
Oh the world has slowly changed
And we fight it
Yeah we fight it

The word's out
You scream and you shout
But ya know it's too late
To fight your addiction

It's hard to
Believe in the truth
When a lie is so sweet
You follow your fiction

You better pray to God
In the end Love Will Win
When the truth is heard and we shed our skin
Pray to God
In the end Love Will Win
Yeah, Love Will Win in the end
